

SELF HELP CO-OPERATIVES

Co-operative Solutions for Citizen-Directed Services

A learning consultation to inform & support the transformation of Social Services in Wales

John Restakis

Executive Director, British Columbia Co-operative Association, Canada

Tuesday 26th June – Friday 29th June 2012

- John Restakis is a Canadian expert who has promoted and commented on citizen-centred developments in Canada over the last 20 years – further details overleaf. During his 4 day visit to Wales John will meet Gwenda Thomas AM, the Minister for Social Services, and other Government Ministers and senior officials and Assembly Members.
- He will speak at the annual conference of the ADSS (Association of Directors of Social Services) on 'Co-operative solutions for social services - The power of reciprocity' and at a joint conference of the Wales Alliance of Citizen Directed Services and Network 3 (Wales Council for Voluntary Action).
- He will be talking about Canadian and Italian experiences and exploring how we might promote citizen directed social support services in Wales at a range of events in Cardiff, Neath, Newport, Newtown and Llandudno; and in Lampeter: "Humanising the economy: Co-operative approaches to service delivery" (details of all events overleaf)
- Other participants in these meetings include Jane Hutt AM (Minister for Finance and Leader of the House), Rosemary Butler AM, Adrian Roper (Cartrefi Cymru), David Smith (Wales Progressive Co-operators), Mick Taylor (Mutual Advantage), Rick Wilson (Community Lives Consortium), Neil Wooding (Public Service Management Wales), Jeff Hawkins (Age Concern Cardiff and the Vale of Glamorgan), senior Social Services officers, trade unionists, and both Conwy and Neath & Port Talbot County Voluntary Councils.

John Restakis M.A.

John Restakis has promoted Community Development programmes – in both general and specific fields such as youth activities, literacy and co-operative development – for many years, in both Canada and the USA.

He has provided technical advice and assistance for the promotion of co-operative projects in Africa, Sri Lanka and Cuba. He founded the annual Bologna Summer Project for Co-operative Studies in Italy and has published several books and papers and scripted films and videos on co-operative issues. His book "Humanizing the Economy" (New Society Publishers, British Columbia 2010) is the standard work on Co-operatives in the Age of Capitalism.
